El Sabado 5 de Marzo
A las 2 p.m.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limites de ninguna clase, los nombrados campos, conocidos por el Venado Tuerto, situados sobre la frontera de Buenos Aires y Santa Fe, distando nada mas que 60 leguas de la Capital 15 leguas de Rojas, 6 de la Teodelina (de Alvear), 15 del Pergamino y 20 del Rosario.
Dista de las Estancias de los Sres. Gahan, Casey, Brown, Ham, Morgan y otros como 5 a 7 leguas.
Dichas estancias han costado casi todas de $360,000, a $500,000 la legua, y se garante que sus pastos no son mejores que los campos que se venden.
El ramal del Ferro Carril del Oeste que va al Pergamino y estara concluido en 15 meses cuando mas, pondra estos campos a un dia de viaje de Buenos Aires.
Estos campos son verdaderamente esplendidos y han sido visitados hace muy poco tiempo por un numero de hacendados y personas inteligentes que los reputan de primera calidad.
Hay muchas personas que creen que los campos virgenes o de pastos fuerte son de la misma calidad; es un gran error que ha costado mucho dinero a algunos pobladores.
Los campos al Sur de Venado Tuerto que lo forman los partidos de Lincoln, 9 de Julio, etc, son mas o menos arenosos llenos de medanos y nunca seran campos de primera calidad. Los al Norte no son arenosos pero en campio muy duros y casi imposible de refinar, mientras que los campos que ofrecen en venta son de tierra negra, pastos inmejorables con grandes cañadones, hermosas lagunas y lomadas, seis medanos.
Son campos que admiten 2000 vacas y dos majadas de ovejas por cada legua cuadrada y no son unicamente para cria de vacas, sino tambien para engorde.
Como tenemos orden terminante de vender todo el campo sin reserva alguna y siendo muy probable que por ser una area tan grande no se consiga la mitad del valor de estos campos, queremos llamar muy especialmente la atencion de los senores hacendadoa sobre su importancia.
Podemos asegurar desde ya, que la mayor parte de los compradores seran estancieros irlandeses y es sabido de todos que donde van esoa peoneers de la ganaderia, los campos pronto dublican su valor,
Prueba de ello son los campos del Norte y Oeste de esta provincia, donde han pagado de 1½ a 2 millones por legua y todo el mundo decia que eran locuras; mientras tanto quienes son los hombres de fortuna en el pais?
Tenemos la firme conviccion que una vez que esten poblados estos campos y una parte alambrados, que lo sera antes de seis meses, no se podra comprar alli una legua por menos de 400,000 m/c.
Las condiciones de la venta son:
50,000 al contado y el resto a 1, 2 y 3 anos de plazo con interes del Banco de la Provincia o con diez por ciento de descuento haciendo el pago al contado.
Se vendera en lotes de una legua con opcion a mas, al gusto de los compradores.
Los planos estaran a disposicion de los interesados, deste el 12 del corriente en nuestra casa Alsina no. 78.
NOTA IMPORTANTE—La venta se efectuara aqui en nuestra casa Alsina 78, despues de un esplendido lunch que ofreceremos a nuestros favorecedores y al efecto deberan munirse de la correspondiente tarjeta de admision, sin la cual no podra tener acceso al local del remate. Siendo limitado el numero de tarjetas [100] pedimos ocurran con tiempo por ellas.

Me es grato comunicar a Vds el resultado satisfactorio del nuevo examen quimico del 'Fluido Little' que acabo de practicar sobre una muestra de este especifico enviada por Vds a este laboratorio el 12 del corr. y fabricado por Morris Little e Hijo en Inglaterra.
Confrontando el analisis de esta muestra con mi analisis del mismo especifico practicado en Febrero de 1879 encuentro un aumento considerable en su grado de concentracion; su densidad es superior, la proporcion de fenoles contenidos en los aceites es mayor, y en una palabra lo considero no solo superior al producto primitivo, sino el mas concentrado y activo de cuantos de su clase he tenido ocasion de examinar hasta la fecha. Esta observacion se refiere, se entiende, esclusivamente a los especificos contra la sarna, que tienen por base los accites Hidro carburados y fenoles del alquitran y que no deben su eficacia al arsenico, al azufre, o al tabaco, sustancias que no existen en el 'Fluido Little.' Apesar de su mayor concentracion el Fluido se mezcla con el agua fria con la misma facilidad y perfeccion como antes.
Me repito de Vds

Alcock's Porous Plasters.

Calle San Jose 755, Buenos Ayres, 4th Feb. 1881.
J. A. Bennet, Esq.,
195 Florida,
Dear Sir,
I have great pleasure in testifying to the efficacy of Allcock's Porous Plasters.
In 1876 I was attacked by Acute Rheumatism in this city, for which the three Doctors who attended me could do absolutely nothing.
After being in bed for 9 months, unable to move any of my limbs, I was advised by a friend to try Allcock's Porous Plasters. I did so, and in 15 days I was completely cured, returning to my work on the City of B.A. Improvements for Mr J C Simpson.
This fact is known to hundreds of persons here. You are at perfect liberty to publish this, and I trust it will induce others similarly afflicted to try them; they are certain to be benefitted by them.
I remain,
Very truly yours,
W. MURPHY.

'LINO.'

People need no longer crowd the Government Houses looking for situations, since, if they choose to read and learn, a pleasant, healthful life, with a good competence, is within the reach of all who care to work for such choice blessings. 'Lino' or flax farming in the Plate is but in its infancy; but this year's crop, even at low prices, has proved so remunerative that it is probable with the great facilities we have in this country for starting agricultural farms, many who are now out of employment and looking for something to do will take to farming a crop which, without other capital than labour secures independence.

In perhaps no other country under the sun can agricultural farming be so easily begun as in the Plate. There is not an estanciero in Buenos Ayres who would not readily give to an industrious man fifty or a hundred squares of land with seed, bullocks, etc to sow flax on halves, or in fact any other crop that the applicant may propose. A working farmr can begin easier in the Plate than in any of the Western States, for here he gets everything given him that in the States he has to buy, yet spite of all this, our splendid lands, that might produce the richest of crops, only feed the sheep, cows, and mares.

Fifty squares of lino will give more than 3 flocks of sheep, or a thousand head of cattle 'al corte,' and if anything that we write can induce our readers to plough up the land and sow a couple of hundred acres of 'lino,' our object in studying this matter is attained. In a few days we hope to receive from Santa Fe full particulars about the growing of this crop in the Plate; in the meantime we extract the following from the U. State agricultural report of 1863, as the information is the freshest we can find on this subject in our books.

"Is flax in its various uses more profitable than other farm products? Of the value of its fibre for cloth the civilized world from the earliest dawn of civilization is sufficient evidence. For strength, for beauty, and durability, it so far surpasses cotton as to be indispensable for certain uses in defiance of all competition. It is grown in a wide range of temperate climates in various soils, while cotton is circumscribed to climate, soil, and conditions of labor. Flax has met with royal encouragement and protection for centuries in Europe, while cotton assumed kingly prerogatives of its own. Yet flax has not rapidly advanced in production, though it has been and is a source of wealth in its fibre, the oil of its seed, and the expressed refuse, so useful in the feeding economy of the farm.

Ireland has long been a prominent flax growing country. The flax of the 'Green Isle' is one of its most valuable and profitable products. Scotland produces little of it, and England less; yet the few who do grow it find that it pays liberally. It is not that England desires flax the less, but that she needs bread the more. With her dense population, while flour is a necessity, beef and mutton are indispensable.

If flax is not largely produced there, it is extensively manufactured, and the initiatory processes of its manufacture in the rural districts have been of immense value in the economy of British industry in particular localities. Observers have noted the renovation, through the potent influence of flax industry, of parishes filled with wretched town hovels, virulent with typhus fever, festering with indecency and crime, and consumed with pauperism. Each family became able to occupy a commodious cottage, disease was banished, pauperism subsided, illegitimacy became unknown, schools flourished, industry prevailed, and the condition of residents was immeasurably bettered, through the social and physical amelioration from the profits of flax-growing and preparation of fibre.

It afforded profitable labour to children, women, and aged and feeble persons, whose wages increased the common fund instead of preying upon the earnings of able-bodied members of the family, and who would otherwise have been compelled to eat the bread of idleness and charity. Persons accustomed to depend for supplies on the 'union houses', were enabled to live comfortably on their own industry, and to accumulate respectable savings.

These examples have not made England proper a great flax-growing region, mainly because English proprietors, who rent to farmers, have entertained the idea that the crop is an exhaustive one. This impression is now wearing away, and the objection will henceforward be comparatively inoperative.

The same necessity does not exist in the United States for employment suited to children and infirm persons who are compelled to labor. Labor of all kinds is here in demand beyond the ability of the country to supply. Abundant testimony exists showing that the crop has always been profitable. It is now far more profitable. The advance in seed from one dollar to three per bushel, and a general demand for fibre that was formerly thrown away in a large section of the country, has given an impetus to production, and an enhancement of profit gratifying to the political economist, who desires the success of present efforts to make this a great staple, feeding an extensive manufacture.

Among instances of successful culture that may be referred to, is one in Henry county, Illinois, where, upon two acres of prairie, well ploughed, and sowed with one bushel of seed, thirty-five bushels of clean seed and two tons of straw were produced, the straw yielding eight dollars per ton. It was cut by a machine, and the seed separated by the trampling of horses.

In Boone county, Illinois, three and a half acres yielded thirty-five bushels of seed and five tons of straw, at a cost of $47; proceeds of seed, $96.25; of straw, $50—a total of $146.25. Net profit, $99.25, or $28.35 per acre.

These specimens of prairie culture, with no more expenditure of labor than in cultivating and marketing wheat, producing net returns equal to two-thirds of the gross receipts, are certainly more encouraging than the yield of fifteen bushels of wheat costing at least two-thirds of its highest returns. That careful culture and proximity of manufactories will secure better results is shown from an experiment in Worcester county, Massachusetts, where 136 square rods, or a trifle more than five-sixths of an acre of old, sandy pasture, with the aid of 130 pounds of guano and 13 loads of barn-yard manure, gave a total product of $148.20, at an expense of $54.58—a profit of $93.65. This is almost identical in gross and net returns with the three and a half acres of prairie, and shows that laborious culture and adequate fertilization are sufficient compensations for superior fertility.

It would seem, then, that at present prices flax should be considered largely remunerative. The great drawback now, as heretofore, is the amount of labor required in the preparation of the fibre. For the progress made in processes of manufacture and improvement of flax machinery the reader is referred to the report of the flax commission, soon to be published. It is certain that flax must henceforward be cut instead of pulled, either by the reaper, and carefully disposed in gravel, or by the mower for gathering, after the manner of hay. If a profit of $50 to $60 per acre has in former years been made in England, with former processes and machinery, requiring tillage, pulling, steeping, beetling, breaking, and scutching, cannot Americans be expected to thrive on its simple culture and harvesting, the manufacturer quickly and cheaply transforming the straw into strong and beautiful goods? If we get less of seed and fibre here—400 pounds of the one, and ten bushels of the other per acre—we do it with far less labour."

AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

We feel special pleasure in giving our readers the decree of the Nat. Government at foot, as it shows that official attention is at last being turned to a subject of the most vital importance to the country's progress, and which, during many years, we ineffectually endeavoured to force on the notice of previous Administrations. Statistics are quite as much the life of trade as competition, and the merchants, traders, farmers and manufacturers of this country have hitherto laboured under an immense disadvantage, owing to the utter absence of any official data or information whatever, National or Provincial, as to the country's natural resources, on which to base their calculations, either for their existing undertakings or the initiation of new ones. A loose census of the population every ten years, Immigration returns every month, and the unwelcome annual appearance of crushing taxation Budgets, National and Provincial, are the only statistics that the past rulers of this country have thought proper to supply the people with, but in this respect, as in so many others, a new loaf is being turned over by Pres. Roca's Government. The Statistical Bureau at Washington has developed into one of the most perfect and useful departments that any Government in the world can boast of to-day, its reports on Agriculture, Trade and every conceivable subject in connection with the country's welfare and progress being eagerly awaited and read not only in the United States but in Europe; and in congratulating General Roca on having taken the first step towards the establishment of a similar Bureau in this country, we feel convinced that if once established, its reports would be as eagerly sought for as those of its model at Washington, as none can deny that the natural resources of this vast and favoured country are far more varied than those possessed by the great Northern Republic.

DECREES.

Art. 1st. That statistics be compiled in the said Provinces, of the natural wealth they contain, of the industrial undertakings at work, of the manufactures, their extent and possible means of dvelopment, either through the improvement of the existing systems, or the adoption of means hitherto untried.

Art. 2. The compilation of these statistics for the Provinces of Tucuman, Salta, and Jujuy, is entrusted to the Rector of the Tucuman College, Don Jose Posse; and for St. Luis, Mendoza, and St. Juan to Dn Ramon Castañeda.

Art. 3. In addition to what is embraced in Art. 1, shall be added a description of the territories suitable for cultivation or for stock-raising, of the climate, capability of irrigation, value of land, available timber, indigenous and exotic plants, their known use and possible application, endemic infirmities, centres of population, general customs and all other data likely to contribute to the formation of accurate ideas as to the inducements offered by the said provinces to European emigrants.

Art. 4. In order that the commission entrusted to the out carried above-named citizens may be the better, the Department of Agriculture, the Commissary of Immigration and the Central Land office will supply them with instructions upon such subjects connected with their respective departments as, in their judgment, require special attention.

Art. 5. When the data referred to in the present decree are compiled, they shall be submitted to the Minister of the Interior, who, after due examination, shall order their publication in the manner and form that may be deemed expedient.

Art. 6. The Governments of the provinces referred to shall be advised through a circular note in order that they may direct the national employes to afford all possible aid toward the success of this under taking.

Art. 7. Let this be communicated etc.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Mr. and Mrs. and the Misses Tout le Monde, we hear, intend going to the Tigre to-day (W.P). Going to the Tigre means going to Calzetta Island, which in turn means a pleasant day, with the best of creature comforts. The weather looked dubious yesterday, but the glass was steady.

The news from the West Coast is curious. Pierola has offered to treat for peace, but now General Baquedano says he will have nothing to do with him. The Chilian papers have got hold of a despatch of Mr Sanchez, Peruvian Minister in Buenos Ayres, and there is a stiff pow-wow going on about it.

An indignation meeting of Italians, Spanish, French and Argentine citizens, all in mourning, will be held to day in Plaza Retiro, to protest against the massacre of wounded men at the battle of Chorillos by the Chilians. We see no English names amongst the invited, so suppose there will not be many Britishers present.

The decree ordering the Governors of the Cuyo provinces to compile all the statistics they can get at as to the natural resources of the country up there, is one of the best moves the Roca Administration has yet made, and we hope is the beginning of a Statistical Department in the Red House. It is to be hoped the Governors will do everyything they can to ensure accuracy in the returns.

We received the following welcome telegram from Carmen de Areco yesterday:—'Archy Craig going on very well and to-day out of danger. Doctors Igarzabal, Greene and Fusely attending him. He will be all right in a few days.—F.G.'

Our advices from Montevideo state that H.M.S. Forward has been suddenly ordered to the Falkland Islands. A pleasant cruise this broiling weather.

Invitation cards were issued yesterday for the grand distribution of prizes to the pupils of Mr. Adolfo Negrotto's Seminary, which will take place to-morrow evening at the Florida Gardens. The programme is most attractive in music and declamation. We have already referred to the splendour of the prizes. A large and most fashionable attendance may be expected.

The funeral Mass at the Irish Convent to-morrow for the late venerated Father Fahy will commence at 9 o'clock, Many friends from the camp are expected. The Venerable Dean Monsignor Dillon will officiate.

Oh! for a coroner. Many of our colleagues dismiss the horrible murder at the Capitania on Friday with three lines. The murderer is yet at large. The poor victim was in search of 18 months' pay due to him. A spectator of the crime tells us that the murdered man did not give the slightest provocation to his slayer.

A tram car has now been established between the Central Station and the General Post Office, for the convenience of passengers arriving at or leaving the Central Station, who can use the car either to reach the station or the Plaza. The fare is exactly 0, thanks to the spirit of the C.B.A. Tramway Co.

The French lyric company brought out by M. Jourdan-Bloudel for the Opera House arrive here this morning on board the Dom Pedro, from Havre. It is the best French company ever brought here, and the debut is fixed for 12th March.

The Patria Argentina gives particulars of another bloody drama in which the son of a well-known native estanciero, a Major in the Army and a Frenchwoman were the actors. The Major is badly, if not fatally wounded; the estanciero's son has left the 'pais,' and 'Madame' has engaged a state-room in the next steamer for France.

The Hypothecary Bank requires repairs, which the Engineers' Department estimate will cost $194,000.

Everybody compliments the Lord Mayor on his neat idea of distributing the Carnival cards with the route of the Corso. It is a capital notion, never thought of by any previous City Magistrate. Mr Alvear has an undeniable talent for organising anything and everything in the way of festivity, but candour compels us to tell him that the citizens are most anxious to see if his abilities are capable of grasping something more practical and useful in the way of reform than the paltry details of a saturnalia which seven-eighths of the people would be delighted to see abolished for ever.

A gaucho who died lately in the odour of blood and brandy rather than of sanctity, once made a vow that, if he won a certain race, he would sweep out the Church of Lujan and carry away the dust in his 'poncho.' He won the race, but forgot his vow, and his poor widow has now gone to Lujan to fulfill it.

The 'te' given by the great harpist Esmeralda Cervantes at the Hotel de la Paix was a most 'recherche' and agreeable reunion. The fair hostess played several beautiful airs on the harp during the evening and announced her intention of giving concerts for the South Pole expedition and other charitable purposes.

The Argentine Consul in Valparaiso telegraphs that another formidable raid of Indians is expected at Nauquen.

The following good story is told of the early life of Mr. Spurgeon, the great preacher:—"On one occasion he was asked to preach in a neighbouring village, and when he called on Mr. Brown, the pastor, on the Sunday morning, Mr. Brown said to him, I did not know you were such a boy, or I would not have asked you to preach for me.' 'Well,' he said, 'I can go back.' 'But,' said Mr. Brown, 'the people have come from all parts, in all kinds of vehicles;' and then he turned his hands under his coat tails and asked what the world was coming to when boys who had not got rid of the taste of their mother's milk went about preaching, However, he did preach, and Mr. Brown planted himself near the pulpit. He said he should read a lesson from the Proverbs, and coming to the passage, 'Grey hairs are a crown of glory to a man,' but he said he doubted that, for he knew a man who had a grey head and he could hardly be 'civil.' But the passage went on to say, 'If it be found in the way of righteousness, and that, he said, was a different thing. When he came down from the pulpit Mr. Brown said to him, 'Bless your heart, I have been 30 years a minister, and I was never better pleased with a sermon, but you are the sauciest dog that ever barked in a pulpit,' and they were always good friends afterwards.'

In consequence of the scare about the noxious stuff used in most of the cheap 'pomitos' made in the country, there is a brisk demand at all the leading English 'boticas' for the genuine article made by Gosnell, Atkinson, Rimmel, Lubin etc, and the stocks held by Messrs Cranwell, Seedorf, Murray and others are rapidly disappearing. Native manufacturers of pomitos as well as other things must either produce a good article or go to the wall. The 'reloj pomito' is the very latest novelty—a watch made of nickel, with a reservoir for the scent.

Among the many and splendid wedding gifts that have already reached the Austrian Crown Prince from various parts of his father's Empire is one peculiarly interesting and welcome to his Imperial Highness, the espousal rings exchanged by the Empress Maria Theresa and the Emperor Francis I. at their marriage ceremony. These rings, bequeathed by Maria Theresa to her daughter, the Archduchess Maria Anna, were left by that Princess to the convent in which she spent the last eight years of her life in religious retirement, dying there in the year 1789. Acting as the mandatory of the holy sisterhood, Dr Wiery, Prince-Archbishop of Klagenfurt, presented the rings in question last month to Archduke Rudolph, who accepted them with manifest gratification. It is believed that the Austrian Crown Price and his fair young Belgian bride will be wedded with these very rings, hitherto regarded by the sisterhood of Elisabeth as the most precious relic in its curious and valuable collection of Imperial souvenirs.

A great many people here still believe that the Caridad Lottery of Montevideo is carried on 'on the square.' The Heraldo of that city, however, which should know more about it than anybody here, says that the Lottery and all other public offices through which even a red cents passes are simply so many feeders for the Treasury. Nothing more likely.

A London correspondent hears that one of the most famous of the professional beauties, whose face has made the fortune of photographers, and whose dresses, if not her sayings, are extremely quoted, is about to emerge from private life and to adopt a profession. For many seasons her portraits have been in the shop windows side by side with those of beautiful or accomplished actresses. In a short time, it is said, she will belong to the class with the members of which she has so often been associated. It is even said that the theatre in which she will make her first appearance has already been selected.

There was a difference of opinion the other day at the Boca between a hardy Biscayan and a Durham bull that had somehow got amongst the former's cows and refused to 'move on.' Finally it came to blows, and the British Bull floored the Spanish Basque in a twinkling and smashed two of his ribs. A posse of policemen came to his rescue and drove off the Durham.

An alcalde in San Sebastian, Guatemala, lately incited the Indians there to burn two of their number, by persuading them that the unfortunates were spreading the cholera by some occult means. The poor creatures were at once bound to the stake and burnt to ashes.

A fellow who lives by his wits saw the other day what he took to be four fine eels in a basket at the door of a 'botica'; he clapped them into his pocket and bolted. While running away he suddenly felt the 'eels' about his neck and found they were snakes; he fainted right away and the snakes crawled about the street till a policeman cut them in bits with his 'whinger.'

The gold market slackened still further today and prices opened 15 cents lower than on Thursday; the cash sales amounted to 133,9oo, which leaves the impression that fresh gold is selling cash to pay for produce purchases. For the end of the month prices not only rule higher than for cash, but advanced five cents, sales for March, April, and May were made at 29.30 and 29.25. The vencimientos to-day reached 350,ooo pats, Cedulas appear steady at 89½.

In Nat. Bank shares we note revived speculation; the news of the offers from London is fully confirmed, but the amount of the advance is not stated, still the affair always tends to improve the position of the bank,and we have reason to suspect that very soon the Nat. Bank will figure in our exchange market and do a large exchange business. This, of course and other matters to come forward at the next meeting of Congress are greatly calculated to improve this stock, which, when it once gets out of the hands of speculators will be held up as a good gold dividend paying stock, and cheap at par; the shares opened at 76¾ cash, and closed at 77½, some new buyers taking what was offered cash; for the end of the month prices ran up to 77⅞, and closed at 77⅛, and one sale for end of March ex div. at 75. Emprest. Popular steady at 98.

Exchange is reported by some brokers at 5.22 on Paris, which is a very low rate, and no takers; sterling drawers pretend 49¼, but no takers, bill on Antwerp at 5.26.

The Dom Pedro has entered and will be up in the morning, she brings 45 first and 40 third class passengers and 13oo tons cargo. The Thales has also entered, dates to 19th, mails by Saturno.

Mr Glover of Rosario was welcomed on Change, and Mr John Samson of the firm of Lochore & Samson took leave of his friends; he leaves on Monday for Europe on business matters of great importance to the industrial interests of this country; we wish him the best success and hope to see him soon back again in the Plate.

The disgraceful Cordova land question is daily becoming more complicated, and another lawsuit has just been commenced to seek redress for the extraordinary action of the Cordova Government, which actually resold lands conveyed to third parties and on which they had paid 'contribucion directa.' The owner of 80 leagues of such lands, Mr C M Randle, of Antwerp, has presented himself to the Supreme Federal Court, demanding protection through his representative here, Mr Oostendorp, and Doctor N Avellaneda, as counsel. The Court has decided in reply to the demand, as follows—

"Buenos Aires. Febrero 15 de 1881. Por acreditada la competencia, en vista de la ratificacion de los testigos, y por presentado en cuanto ha lugar con la demanda interpuesta, teniendose por parte, Citese a la Provincia de Cordoba, librandose oficio al Sr Gobernador y Fiscal de la misma con copia de dicha demanda, para que comparezca a juicio verbal ante esta Suprema Corte el dia 8 de Marzo proximo y comunicandole que en el entretanto no haga innovacion y suspenda todo procedimiento respecto de la venta de terrenos en cuya posesion solicita ser emparado el demandante.—Buenos Aires, Febrero 16 de 1881—Pedro Gache."

It will be interesting to follow the trial of this case, as if title deeds and Contribucion Directa payment do not guarantee to the owner his property, the situation of landowners in the Argentine Republic, and especially in Buenos Ayres, would be truly awful, and it is well known that hundreds of leagues in this province have nothing else to show as proof of ownership. However, we have no doubt the Supreme Federal Court will properly decide the important point at issue, considering how much such a question is identified with immigration and the introduction of foreign capital into the country. We must also welcome our old friend Dr Avellaneda back to the bar, and congratulate him on being the advocate of rights and interests perhaps the greatest and most important in this country.

Two ships entering port the other day having been placed in quarantine and the captains fined 50 pats each for not hanging out quarantine flags, it appears that on one of the vessels the captain met with an accident and hurt his leg, and the other vessel lost one of her sailors during a storm, he was washed overboard. Neither case was a fit subject for quarantine yet the vessels have been fined 50 pats each and both vessels placed in quarantine; we call Sr Mansilla's attention to this matter.

The London telegrams say that at the wool auction the drop is 10 per cent in Australian and 7 in Cape wools.

On the 4th inst. the Directors of the Italian Bank conferred full power on Mr O Stoppani as sub-manager of the bank. Mr Stoppani is well and favourably known in this market, and we congratulate him on his merited promotion.

Messrs Moreno and Fernandez have opened new and splendid premises in Calle Cuyo. Owing to the great increase in their business, being agents for Messrs Dumourier, Freres and other great European wine firms, they found their offices in Florida too small. In their new premises they have large deposits filled with the best wines, teas, sugars &c. They are also the agents of the Liebig factory for the sale of refined cooking grease, in which a large trade is doing.

The R.M.S. Trent is posted to sail on the 12th march, the date having to be so owing to the steamer undergoing quarantine. The Trent, however, goes home direct.

We understand that it is impossiblo to arrange the month's liquidation for Saturday 26th, as the banks will be open for a few hours on Monday; thus the close of the month's liquidation will also be on Monday.

Nat. Bank Shares ruled strong and active, large purchases at 78 for end of month, and for cash at same rate; the stock looks better than ever, and it was rumoured that next week the Nat. Bank begins drawing on London.

The most important of all news on 'Change was an offer from London to the National Government of a large sum at one per cent over the Bank of England rate, which we suppose the Government will accept by telegram.

Captain Manton had an interview to-day with the President and received numerous orders from the National Government for his telephone, which to-day he is putting up at the Post Office and other public departments. President Roca is determined to have all the public departments connected by telephone, and has given Captain Manton the necessary orders which will require all Captain Manton's energy to fill.

Telegraphic communication with the Cape of Good Hope and the Plate is at last established, a leading English house received a telegram yesterday from the Cape dated 17th 4.55.

We are happy to say that there is no truth in the rumour of yesterday that a partner of a house was in trouble for drawing all its funds out of the bank without consent of his partner, enquiries were made at the bank in question and the whole affair proved bola.

The payments on Change were full up to the mark, crowds around all the tables, and an active cash movement at all the banks, it was in every sense a busy Saturday.

The exchange market presents a peculiar attitude; West Coast bills for a large amount are expected in the market on Monday or Tuesday, and to-day some of the best German, English and American paper offered at 49⅝ and not passed; on the other hand other brokers report exchange down since yesterday, owing to the rumour that the Provincial Bank meditates taking a large amount next week and paying for same in gold, and bringing gold out from London. We hear that on Monday this all important matter will be discussed by the Bank Board; two of its most prominent members are in favor of it.

The National Government patentes for this city are being given round, and this reminds us of the unpaid coupons on the Municipal Bonds guaranteed by the Provincial Government. These patentes and other Provincial taxes were the supposed elements which the Provincial Government possessed for attending to the service of the Municipal debt, now that they have passed to the National Government it is certainly high time to ask the Minister of Hacienda when these overdue coupons are to be paid. This Municipal Bond question is treated far too lightly by the Governor of Buenos Aires who must see how damaging to the credit of the Province is this default. Buenos Aires, that in former years was so proud of its credit and used to laugh at the National Government, is now a defaulter, having guaranteed these Bonds. Some immediate steps ought to be taken to save the credit of the Province and pay the unfortunate bondholders.

To-day the Venado Tuerto pamphlets were out with fine plans and descriptions of the lands &c. We find in this little paper figures to which even we ourselves were strangers, showing the great yield of sheep and cattle in this country. As some of these figures will interest many of our mercantile readers, we make the following extract, as the estimates are not imaginary but simply based on facts:

"Showing how a man of small capital can become owner of a league of land, estimating the cost at $2oo.ooo—

Cash payment for one league	$5o,000
2,000 sheep at $49	90,000
3oo head of cattle at $25o	75,000

	$76,3oo
In three years	$228,9oo
Payment for land and interest	171,000
	$57,9oo

At the end of three years this man's position would be—

One league of land	$3oo,000
Sheep and cattle	165,000

Cash on hand, say	5o,000
	$525,000

Mr D J Brett, of Mercedes, obtained the following result last year from a small flock of sheep—

He purchased 1,5oo picked ewes at $60	$90,000
Sold 43o arrobas of wool, including lambs' wool, at $125, delivered on the estancia	53,57o
3oo fat ewes at $55	16,5oo

Rent of puesto $20,000
Shepherd 5,000
Sundries 2,000
	$27,000
Net result in 12 months	$83,252

Another friend of mine purchased 1,000 head of cattle in the month of September at $25o. He placed them on excellent land, and they became very fat so that he was able to sell at very high prices.

2oo novillos and cows at $6oo..	$12o,000
1oo do do 5oo..	5o,000

In October and November the calving amounted to 3oo, and 12 months later to 4oo. In December he sold 1,4oo head at $28o, producing $392,000, giving a total of sales amounting to $562,000, or a gain of $312,0oo in fifteen months. The land being his own he had no rent to pay."

In the case of Mr Brett we have a flock of sheep costing $9o,000, giving the owner in one year $83,252 m/c. No wonder that sheep-farmers are buying up the whole country.

Advices from London by the French mail are favorable to the Plate. We published in our last the prospectus of another new River Plate Company launched in London. The London Standard, speaking of this company, says:—

"The Rara Fortuna Silver Mining Company invite subscriptions for £35,000, in shares of £1 each. The company has been formed for purchasing and developing a silver mine now being worked in the province of Cordoba, in the Argentine Republic."

The Portuguese loan has proved a very brilliant success, and without the aid of the London bankers, who hitherto held a sort of monopoly in such affairs. The loan was for £3,0oo,000 sterling, and was taken firm by the Comptoir Descompte, Messrs. Sterne Bros, being the agents in London. It was floated at a handsome premium.

On the 15th of March all the Rosario property of the Armstrong estate will be sold; we have received no advertisement of this all important sale, and suppose that the auctioneer believes there will be too many bidders at it.

Mr Otto Beyer, who was enquired for on 'Change by some friends yesterday, has been found; he is at present on Mr Lago's estancia, Rodriguez. Another missing man found by the Standard.

The Pampa of this morning publishes a most extraordinary list of claims against Mr Bateman; the matter has certainly surprised everyone, as it is well known the Provincial Government owes Mr Bateman a large balance for his commissions; it would be far better to arrange that claim honorably than by drawing up a schedule of imaginary claims, which no arbitrator could ratify.

To-day the Chilian mails were delivered; the papers are filled with official despatches of the Chilian Generals on the fall of Lima published in English, French, Spanish. The Chilian Government spares no effort in the way of publication to bring its country properly before the European public.

We extract the following from Messrs Wissner and Chapeaurouge's important circular:—

"Arrivals of the week—

	Wheat	Flour.
	Fanegas.	Bags
By West. Railway	12,305	297
By Southern Railway	4,000	—
By Boca and rivers	431	4,128
	16,746	4,425

Notwithstanding the free arrival of wheat the price advanced sharply, caused by the large purchases of millers of Coast wheat, which sells readily. Very small arrivals from the Salado, and from the Rivers almost nil; prices look advancing, as the millers dont believe in a fall. Several lots 'trigo candeal' sold. Large sales in flour effected, chiefly flour from the Rivers, which sells easily at $30 per ar. Maize very little doing."

We think we can report a little more doing in wool, and between yesterday and to-day a good quantity sold; fine conditioned wools sell freely at $105 and even higher, which cannot be considered a bad price. Several questions with 'acopiadores' have been arranged, 'sefias' returned, and the wool will now come on the market. The whole system of our wool trade calls for some radical reform, and perhaps the market would be sounder, if the consignatarios had their own barracas, as in Montevideo, and baled their customers' wools. There are far too many middle-men in the wool business, and this year's experiment with the shop-keepers and Italian acopiadores shows that a trade of such importance should not be allowed to be snagged up either by undue competition or ruinous speculation.

Mr Hermann Altgelt's excellent review of agricultural produce for the week was given round to-day. It is full of the most important data. The stock of wheat in the hands of colonists will reach for 9 or 10 months for the colonial millers. The stock of wheat in hands of Sta. Fe millers is about 13o,000 fanegas of 15 ar. and about 8,000 fan. exported. Lino still a large stock in the camp; 17½ asked on board.

UNCLAIMED MONEY.

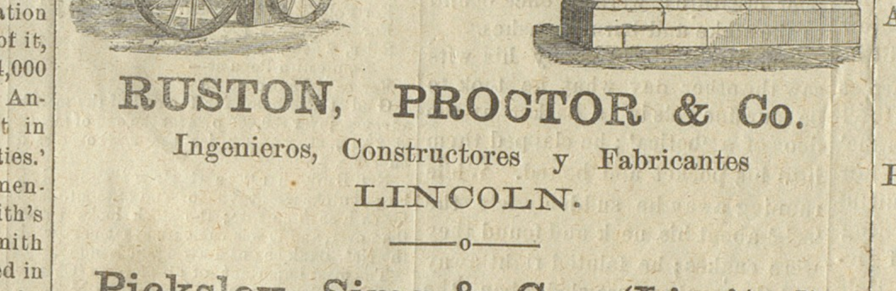

There are few subjects more interesting—and especially to readers in the New World, as we pointed out in an article on 'Phantom Estates,' published in these columns a year ago—than that treated by Mr Edward Preston, of 1 Great College street, Westminster, S. W., the well known compiler of 'Chamber's Index to Next of Kin,' in his little volume, 'Unclaimed Money.' As to the extent of the work covered in such an 'Index' it may be said that the 'agony column' of the London Times for one year contained some two thousand notices. In twenty-six cases the Treasury Solicitor advertised for the next of kin. The amount of money reverting to the Crown is rarely made public, but in the famous case of Mrs Helen Blake of Kensington, the personalty alone amounted to $700,000, and the last Parliamentary return showed receipts by the crown of 'windfalls' amounting to £303,302. In many other cases large rewards were offered for baptismal, marriage and burial certificates. The descendants were advertised for of the Braats, born in 1778 and 1782; of a baronet who died in 1724; of a couple that married in 1708; of a person who came to America in 1683. A cab-driver was wanted to take possession of a fortune, a pauper at Hull to receive £30,000 bequeathed by a Scottish nobleman. The baptismal certificate of the son of the Earl of Delamere was wanted, and £250 were offered for a clue to the marriage settlement of a rich man, who dying suddenly, could only mutter anxiously, 'Lincoln's Inn Fields.' There were many people who would 'find it to their advantage' to reveal themselves—some had not been heard of since 1798, one had fallen heir to £12,000.

On the subject of dormant funds in Chancery Mr Preston tells us that since 1725 all money and effects have been given into the custody of the Bank of England. In 1829 the total amount of Suitors' stock then in court was nearly £38,000,000. In 1853 the Suitor's Further Relief act was passed, by which the Lord Chancellor was empowered to investigate accounts the dividends of which had not been dealt with for fifteen years or more and where he was of opinion that it was not probable any claim would be made for the same to make Orders for the appropriation of future dividends for the benefit of the suitors, direction being also given for a similar investigation at the end of every five years. In 1854 the Suitors' stock then in court amounted to £46,000,000 and there were 566 accounts amounting to more than £256,000 that had not been dealt with for fifteen years. On publication of the list about one-half of the stock was transferrred out of court to successful claimants. The list of dormant funds in Chancery printed in the London Gazette in 1872 filled thirty pages and contained 2,500 names, besides which there were 80 entries of articles at the bank belonging to suitors in Chancery, such as 'five chests and one box, marked 'Plate and jewelry;' 'a box marked 'Diamond necklace, coronet and ear rings;' 'a box containing documents of title, jewels, trinkets, watches and personal ornaments,' and the like. The unclaimed funds in Chancery have been used to lighten the burden of taxation, and the new Law Courts were built with the unclaimed interest of these funds.

Among the instances given of successful claims upon the Government for the refunding of estates which had reverted to the Crown by reason of persons dying intestate and leaving no known next of kin, several are worth quoting. A four-line notice of the death of Mrs Maria Mangin Brown in 1872 secured £192,535 to four claimants from Italy. In 1861 the relatives of Brigadier-General George Kohler, who died in Egypt in 1800, obtained his property from the Crown, the principal amounting to about £8000, and the interest to £15,000. Thomas Dewell died intestate in 1826, leaving an estate of £2,064; this the next of kin recovered in 1858, with interest, the Vice-Chancellor ruling that 'the Crown had no right to have money, as it were, wrapped up in a napkin.' In 1842 Mr John Turner died intestate, and when some years later his estate was claimed, the Crown had to replace £57,000 of stock sold and covered into the Treasury, and pay interest on it at 4 per cent. And so on. There are also funds to a large amount lying dormant in India, lists of which are regularly published, while the Crown agents of the colonies print schedules of intestates. One single list in New South Wales contained 150 names, mostly those of miners and explorers, the assets ranging from a few sovereigns to £4,000. Another list from the Cape of Good Hope contained 500 entries, the sums involved ranging up to £1,200. Of army prize money, too, a large share is never claimed; between 1809 and 1876 the commissioners of Chelsea Hospital received £1,890,451, of which only £1,122,040 went to claimants. Naval prize money is not so important an item as it was in the good old days—as in 1745 when Captain Talbot captured two French vessels which yielded £850 a man to the common sailors, the proprietors of the privateer throwing in for £700,000, or when another bold privateers-man, Captain Butler, landed a £400,000 prize; or in 1762, when Captain Pownall captured the Hermione off Cadiz, which netted £520,000, the captain receiving £65,000, the Admiral and Commodore dividing a similar sum, and ordinary seamen having each £485 5s. 4d. 'Poor Jack' hardly got his share at the capture of Havana in 1762, when the Admiral obtained nearly £123,000 and the Commodore 24,500, while 12,100 seamen only divided £45,247 between them. In 1795, it is worth adding, where a number of East Indiamen surrounded a French vessel and made a prize of her without firing a single shot, the passengers and recruits carried on the vessels claimed a share, but the former were nonsuited, the Court holding that 'it was not probable that those gentlemen who were looking through the windows with their hair full-dressed struck any terror into the mind of the enemy.' The capture of a slave dhow affords a small profit nowadays. In the case of the Ameen the captain of the English vessel got £85 18s., and his subordinates smaller sums down to the eight-and-sixpenny share of a boy. One reason why a large percentage of prize money is never claimed, apart from the possibility of the claimant's death in later actions, is found in the long delays that commonly elapse ere the money is formally awarded. Thus in the Indian Mutiny of 1857, the loot of Banda and Kirwee amounted to an immense sum; it was not begun to be divided till 1868. The list of articles looted is decidedly interesting. At Kirwee the jewels included 109 diamonds in a paper; 28 diamond and pearl bracelets; 6 large gold bracelets; 25 gold neck chains; 1 pearl necklace—9 strings; 'numerous other pearl, diamond and ruby necklaces; 17 strings of pearls; several diamond ear-rings; 56 ornaments with precious stones; 18 pearl ear ornaments; 2 large pearl necklaces with emeralds—244 pearls; 1 armlet with 66 brilliants; one diamond necklace with pearls—31 divisions; 29 small pearl necklaces; 4 gold nose rings with 4 large pearls; 5 silver-cased mirrors; 1 diamond necklace in three strings with brilliant drop and large emerald; two pearl necklaces—196 pears; 'numerous' diamond armlets: two bangles, with twenty-two bells; 1 string of 4 large pearls; 22 diamond rings; 1 pearl waist-belt; 31 strings of pearls and two diamond bracelets—132 brilliants. Besides these there were 69,579 gold Venetian coins, 15,584 mohurs and 431 sovereigns; 250 bars and brick of gold and gold chains and bracelets, valued at £100,000, with rupees and pice amounting to £210,000 and £10,000 worth of silver bullion. At Banda were found—with many other things—diamond and gold armlets, gold and coral necklaces, strings of diamonds, a hookah set with precious stones, a gold mouth-piece, a gold tray set with precious stones, a diamond head-piece, an emerald necklace, a dagger set with brilliants, to say nothing of 5 silver umbrellas, 4 silver spears, 1 silver trumpet, 21 silver sticks, 1 silver punkah, 17 pieces of gold lace, 110 Sowars' blue coats, a lot of watches and musical boxes, carpets, uniforms, elephants and trappings, the palace and grounds, bathing ghauts, houses and gardens, bungalows, promissory notes and securities amounting to £250,000, and other items. The promissory notes were adjudged not to be prize withing the meaning of the proclamation. In the Deccan case more than £8,000,000 were claimed, including such items as 'treasure found at Nassuck, £562,000;' 'the Peishwa's money, £387,359;' 'jewels and other valuables, £298,965;' 'treasure belonging to the Rajah of Nagpore, £337,500;' 'jewels of the Rajah found in a drain, £2,500,000;' 'arrears of rent due to the Peishwa from the Nizan, £1,375,000;' and so on. It was some fourteen years ere these claims were adjusted. It may be added that many thousands of pounds of unclaimed soldiers' pay await distribution, some men having left sums of £150 and over to their credit, with no indication of their relatives' whereabouts.

Those of our readers who are interested in the Hussar and Captain Kidd's treasure enterprises will find good reading in Mr Preston's tenth chapter—'Lot at Sea.' The Luxine, a 32-gun ship, which sailed in 1799 from Yarmouth for the Texel, was lost off the Dutch coast with a large amount of treasure. She was heavily insured, and the underwriters paid the claims and then undertook salvage, recovering £80,000 of specie in the first eighteen months. Operations were resumed in 1814 and continued till 1821, but the wreck had sunk into the sand and only a few pieces of silver rewarded the searchers. In 1822 a company was formed which sank several thousand pounds without success, and abortive efforts were continued until 1857, when a storm cleared the wreck in part and £25,000 worth of gold was brought up. The Taetis was wrecked in 1830 off the Brazilian coast, having on board £162,050 in bullion; the ship on the station subsequently saved a good deal of it, for the crews were awarded £54,000 for salvage and expenses. Another interesting chapter is that in 'Heirs-at-Law versus Charities.' Not the least curious charity mentioned is that known as 'Smith's Poor Kin.' In 1627 Alderman Smith bequeathed £1,000 to be invested in land, the income of which was to be distributed for the relief and ransom of captives taken by the Turkish pirates, and a similar sum to be similarly invested, the income in this case to be applied to relieving the poorest of the testator's kindred, 'sick, aged and impotent persons, and such as could not maintain their own charge.' The estate is now worth £11,000 a year, but the poor kin have increased proportionately. There were four needy relatives in 1700; in 1830 there were 100; in 1868 there were 412; now there are over 700. Among these 'poor Smiths' are a gentleman, a wholesale grocer, a surgeon, a music master, a retired surgeon and a retired druggist, the most indigent of whom has £300 a year; another poor Smith has an income of £440. The Charity Commissioners have been directed to frame a new scheme and apply a portion of the income to general charitable purposes, whereat the poor Smiths cry lustily aloud, 'Confiscation!'

The unclaimed dividends in the Bank of England amount to immense sums. Some £900,000 of dividends due and not demanded are entered in the books, besides a nearly equal sum advanced to Government. Curiously enough, the bank no longer publishes lists—it being claimed that such publications promoted fraud—but confines itself to sending out circulars to people who seem in its governors' opinion likely to be interested! In some cases dividends have been accruing since 1754. According to the lists published some years ago the representatives of some 30,000 investors in the South Sea Company were entitled to about £5,600,000 for unclaimed dividends and stocks. There is also some 7 or 8 millions sterling in the hands of trustees in bankruptcy, representing unclaimed dividends. Still more unclaimed money is awaiting the heirs of owners of prizes in the State lotteries of the last century, as appears from an entry in the annual statement of the bank of England. There is a large sum of money lying dormant in the form of unexpected assets. Thus in 1748 one Ashley died, his estate being settled in 1792. Some of the creditors had lost track of the case and never called for their dividends, and in 1867 the courts were called on to take some action with regard to these sums. Simultaneously a large sum of money unexpectedly accrued to the estate, and a lawsuit arose which was settled in 1876 by the decision that the dividends of 1792 left unclaimed must (in the absence of any act of Parliament concerning their disposition) remain till some one came forward and proved a title to them, while the newly-accrued fund must be apportioned among all the original creditors, those whose debts carried interest being entitled to interest from 1792 to 1876, unless they had left their money in court, in which case they could have no interest on the money so left, but must bear the consequences of their own neglect. In 1864 a sum of nearly £150,000 was announced as having been recovered for the representatives of the creditors of an insolvent of 1803; in 1856 full payment was made to the creditors of two gentlemen named Proudfoot who failed in 1792; and now the heirs of an insolvent of 1821 have advertised for his creditors. In conclusion we may give some of the most striking instances of windfalls; Whitmore, a private soldier in the Ninth, fell heir to £50,000 unexpectedly; a soldier in the Ninety-first, while at Cork, saw a newspaper advertisement for 'next of kin,' and answering it obtained a fortune of £250,000; a poor barber at Gloucester came into £350,000 in like fashion; Mr John Ferguson, of Cairnbrook, who died in 1855, left £800,000 in sums of from £100 to £50,000, to a great number of relations, most of whom were in humble circumstances; a York cabman found himself one of eight inheritors to an estate of £150,000 etc.—N Y World.
